

Design Thinking For Business Model Generation

Many organizations have had a stable model for a number of years, the dynamics of the market and environment have shifted significantly making their current business model unsuitable if not obsolete. The financial crisis, globalisation, digitisation, information access and changing customer behavior have exacerbated market forces and created a different playing field. It is with a sense of urgency and resolve that many organisations are seeking new, innovative business models. During this practical workshop, ShiftIN makes use of the “Business Model Canvas”, a systematic and practical tool to think about strategy and business model innovation. Breaking with existing models and design new business models that can open up new markets and reach different audiences is the theme. ShiftIN will explain how to use the canvas to innovate and start developing new business models for the future.
